OGDEN, UTAH, - AUG. 13, 1930.

PROBING RYAN HOMICIDE.

Sheriff Emery of Salt Lake Summoning Witnesses and Making Investigation.

Divorce Suits Filed - Man Accuses Wife and Five Children - Junction City Briefs and Personal.

Sheriff Emery of Salt Lake, was an Ogden visitor yesterday in the interest of the Aurora Hodge case. Sheriff Emery spent considerable time with Sheriff Bailey and Deputy Sheriff Sebring, going over the details of the case and fixing the dates and other information when Mrs. Hodge was last seen. Sheriff Emery is still quite confident that Mrs. Hodge was with which to go east. It is very certain that he only had $1 when she left Ogden and the money and ticket sent her by her brother with which to come home. The two girls went to the Crittenton home, as to Mrs. Huddlestone and had a long talk with that lady, who was matron of the home when Mrs. Hodge was an inmate, and knows a good deal about the woman. Sheriff Emery after talking with Deputy Sebring and Mrs. Huddlestone subpoenaed both of them to appear in Salt Lake next Monday morning for testimony for the state at the preliminary hearing of Mrs. Hodge, charged with the murder of William C. Hodge. Sheriff Emery is still quite confident that Mrs. Hodge will yet confess and tell who her accomplice was in the crime.

MORGAN.

PASSING OF PIONEERS.

Midsummer Festival for the Old Folks of Morgan County.

Special Correspondence.

Morgan City, Morgan Co., Aug. 12.-Mrs. Mary Ann Stoddard Dickson died Aug. 11 at her home in Richville. She was nearly 84 years of age and was the wife of Bill Dickson, born in Connecticut, Dec. 28, 1817; joined the Church in 1836; gathered with the Saints in 1838, came to Utah in 1852, and to Morgan county in 1853. She was the mother of four sons and two daughters, all of whom survive her, viz.: Samson, Albert D., Judson S., Alvira, Wm. H. and John H. She has 60 grand-

Fred Noyes, another herder, tells one, showing much courage on his part. He claims that he was in bed when something made a rush into his sheep. He jumped up and as soon as he discovered that a bear was near, he sprang back into bed, covered up and almost ceased to breathe, so when the bear came up to the tent door and saw the inmate hears in the bedding, he decided it had been dead too long, for he walked away in disgust. When Noyes found himself safe, he said, "I showed him a hot time."

The water that is used for camp comes from the lakes, and though it looks beautiful at a distance, on close examination it is found to be almost alive with "wigglers." One quart of some lakes, boiled down, makes very good soup.

The different kinds of life in a lake are numerous to describe. Some people may think it sweet to be in the shadows of the pines, but most herders do not wish to have their tents placed there.

Daniel Jolley and D. M. Draper had just placed their tent back of a small stream, when a large bear came up directly in front of the door. Had shade, both would have been injured, if not killed. But what is more terrible is the lightning. It seems that the pines have a tendency to draw the electricity which follows down their trunks with a mighty force, generally killing all life under the shelter of its branches.
